In the House of Assembly today the debate on the Household Suffrage Bill was resumed by the Minister for Education and continued by Messrs. Griffiths and Caldwell, who opposed it, and by Mr. Arlidge, who supported it. The debate was interrupted by one of the liveliest incidents ever witnessed in the Assembly. Mr. Granger, member for Wallaroo, was called in order for interfering with the speaker. The Speaker replied, "You are too dictatorial." Mr. Granger: "I decline to withdraw." After Mr. Kingston moved that the hon. member for Wallaroo (Mr. Granger) be called upon to attend in his place in the House and withdraw the statement made of use and apology, Mr. Solomon seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously. Later in the day Mr. Granger took his seat, withdrew the statement, and made an apology, which the Speaker accepted, and the incident closed.

PERTH, Thursday.
In the Assembly today the debate on the Premier's motion to refer the Commonwealth Bill to a select committee was continued. Mr. Wood, member for West Australia, supported the motion, and Mr. John Forrest, member for Perth, opposed it. The Premier, Mr. Forrest, urged that the proper course to pursue would be to introduce the bill as a schedule, when, if Parliament passed it, it would be a law. Mr. Wood, however, stated that the bill would be introduced as a bill, and that the Premier's motion would be a waste of time. The debate was continued until 10 o'clock, when the bill was passed.
